Planner's Comments (Norman Hall)

There seemed to be a growth in the vegetation over the last week – I hope it didn't spoil your runs. Anyway Mike says that if you went through the nettles you were going the wrong way. I received positive comments from the runners I spoke to but would be pleased to hear from those with a more negative take, I am still learning.

My thanks to Mike for his valuable input on the courses and for helping to put out and collect the controls. Thanks also to Chris Calow for the latter. As usual the organiser, Pauline had everything under control.

Controller's Comments (Mike Smithard)

A low turnout in half term and not one of our favoured areas. It's an annoying area, not difficult but sometimes hard to relocate if you get puzzled. A few new faces – welcome – I hope you return. If an adult and you found it more testing than predicted, I would recommend that you do the orange course next time and, when successful on that (as you probably will be), try the light green straight afterwards when you will have some familiarity with the area. Please ask for advice, Barbara on enquiries will find someone to talk to you - I would be happy to talk/walk you through the first few controls if I'm free.
